Dedication . . .

Mr. Farrior, teaching vocational agriculture and industrial arts, instructs boys in proper farming methods and use of shop tools; aside from this, he performs many jobs which help keep our school operating efficiently and effectively. Mr. Farrior is indeed a fine person and teacher.

The Aberdeen High School Beta Club dedicates the 1963 Timekeeper to two superlative teachers, who, aiding students daily in their vocational plans and ideas, teach by example and application.

Mrs. Klingenschmidt and Mr. Farrior have been responsible for the success of many students after their graduation from high school and their entrance into the vocational fields of agriculture or home economics.

Mrs. Klingenschmidt, teaching home economics, instructs girls in cooking and sewing. Many times during the year, she is called on to supply food and service at various banquets which she always does excellently. Mrs. Klingenschmidt is indeed a teacher of outstanding quality.

C. WADE MOBLEY, Principal

Our principal, Mr. Mobley, faces the trials and tribulations of conducting the affairs of our school everyday. He has helped in many ways to make Aberdeen High School what it is today.

Mrs. Wallace is an invaluable part of our administration.

Always ready to help, she does more to support our school than just her job. She performs the duties of a receptionist, typist, nurse, and vice-principal equally well.

Homecoming is one of the highlights of the year. School spirit is at its greatest during the Homecoming activities. Four girls were chosen by the students to represent their classes. The Queen was picked by the football players. At lunch on Friday, the students had a parade downtown, and the cheerleaders led a pep rally in front of the high school. The game was exciting, with students and alumni pulling for the team they love best, the good old red and grey. The team played hard, tying 14 to 14 with Carthage. At half time Gail Gschwind was crowned Homecoming Queen for 1962. As a climax to the Homecoming activities, the student council sponsored a Homecoming Dance in the beautifully decorated student center.
